

1 LYNNE C. HERMLE (STATE BAR NO. 99779)
 lchermle@orrick.com
 2 JOSEPH C. LIBURT (STATE BAR NO. 155507)
 jliburt@orrick.com
 3 CAROLINA GARCIA (STATE BAR NO. 311261)
 cgarcia@orrick.com
 4 ORRICK, HERRINGTON & SUTCLIFFE LLP
 1000 Marsh Road
 5 Menlo Park, CA 94025-1015
 Telephone: +1 650 614 7400
 6 Facsimile: +1 650 614 7401

Electronically Filed
 by Superior Court of CA,
 County of Santa Clara,
 on 11/3/2020 5:09 PM
 Reviewed By: D Harris
 Case #20CV372366
 Envelope: 5232922

7 Attorneys for Defendant
 CISCO SYSTEMS, INC.
 8

9 SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

10 COUNTY OF SANTA CLARA

11
 12 DEPARTMENT OF FAIR EMPLOYMENT
 AND HOUSING, an agency of the State of 13 California,

14 Plaintiff,

15 v.

16 CISCO SYSTEMS, INC., a California
 Corporation; SUNDAR IYER, an individual;
 17 RAMANA KOMPELLA, an individual,

18 Defendants.
 19

Case No. 20CV372366

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF DEMURRERS BY CISCO SYSTEMS, INC.

Date: TBD March 9, 2021
 Time: TBD 9:00 AM
 Dept.: 6
 Judge: Honorable Maureen A. Folan

Complaint Filed: October 16, 2020

TABLE OF CONTENTS

		Page
1	I. INTRODUCTION AND STATEMENT OF ISSUES.....	1
2	II. RELEVANT FACTS	2
3	A. Doe’s Employment at Cisco.....	2
4	B. Doe’s Administrative Charge and the DFEH’s Lawsuit.....	4
5	III. LEGAL STANDARD	4
6	IV. ARGUMENT	5
7	A. The Entire Complaint is Barred by the Statute of Limitations.....	5
8	B. Plaintiff’s FEHA Discrimination Allegations Fail to State a Claim	6
9	C. Plaintiff’s FEHA Harassment Claim Fails On Multiple Grounds	8
10	1. DFEH Failed to Administratively Exhaust The Harassment Claim	8
11	2. DFEH Fails to State the Elements of a Harassment Claim.....	8
12	3. The Harassment Claims Are Time-Barred.....	11
13	D. Plaintiff’s FEHA Retaliation Claim Fails for Lack of Essential Elements.....	12
14	1. No Protected Activity.....	12
15	2. No Adverse Action.....	13
16	3. No Causal Link	14
17	V. CONCLUSION	14

TABLE OF AUTHORITIES

Page(s)

Federal Cases

1

2 Centaur Classic Convertible Arbitrage Fund Ltd. v. Countrywide Fin. Corp.,

3 878 F. Supp. 2d 1009 (C.D. Cal. 2011)..... 6

4 Lin v. Potter,

5 No. C-10-03757-LB, 2011 WL 1522382 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 21, 2011)..... 8

6 Manatt v. Bank of Am., NA,

7 339 F.3d 792 (9th Cir. 2003)..... 11

8 Rabara v. Heartland Emp. Servs.,

9 No. 17-CV-03770-LHK, 2019 WL 1877351 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 26, 2019)..... 12

10 Soares v. California, No. 2:16-cv-00128 WBSEFB, 2016 WL 3519411, at *3-*4

11 (E.D. Cal. June 28, 2016)..... 11

12 Yoshimoto v. O’Reilly Auto., Inc.,

13 No. C 10-5438 PJH, 2013 WL 6446249 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 9, 2013)..... 11

State Cases

13 Akers v. County of San Diego,

14 95 Cal. App. 4th 1441 (2002)..... 12

15 Aubry v. Tri-City Hosp. Dist.,

16 2 Cal. 4th 962 (1992) 5, 7, 10

17 Blank v. Kirwan,

18 39 Cal. 3d 311 (1985) 5

19 Cantu v. Resolution Trust Corp.,

20 4 Cal. App. 4th 857 (1992)..... passim

21 Carter v. Prime Healthcare Paradise Valley LLC,

22 198 Cal. App. 4th 396 (2012)..... 5

23 City of Sacramento v. State Water Res. Control Bd.,

24 2 Cal. App. 4th 960 (1992)..... 4

25 Czajkowski v. Haskell & White, LLP,

26 208 Cal. App. 4th 166 (2012)..... 10, 14

27 Fisher v. San Pedro Peninsula Hospital,

28 214 Cal. App. 3d 590 (1989)..... 8, 10, 11

Fuentes v. Tucker,

31 Cal. 2d 1 (1947) 4

TABLE OF AUTHORITIES (CONTINUED)

		Page(s)
1
2	Guz v. Bechtel Nat. Inc. ,
	24 Cal. App. 4th 317 (2000).....	8
3
4	Hines v. Lukes ,
	167 Cal. App. 4th 1174 (2008).....	4
5
6	Hughes v. Pair ,
	46 Cal. 4th 1035 (2009)	11
7
8	Janken v. GM Hughes Elecs. ,
	46 Cal. App. 4th 55 (1996).....	9
9
10	Kelley v. Conco Companies ,
	196 Cal. App. 4th 191 (2011).....	7, 13
11
12	Kramer v. Intuit Inc. ,
	121 Cal. App. 4th 574 (2004).....	5
13
14	Louie v. BFS Retail & Commercial Operations, LLC ,
	178 Cal. App. 4th 1544 (2009).....	4
15
16	Metzenbaum v. Metzenbaum ,
	86 Cal. App. 2d 750 (1948).....	5, 14
17
18	Miller v. Dep't of Corr. ,
	36 Cal. 4th 446 (2005)	13
19
20	Mokler v. County of Orange ,
	157 Cal. App. 4th 121 (2007).....	11
21
22	Nazir v. United Airlines, Inc. ,
	178 Cal. App. 4th 243 (2009).....	7
23
24	Perkins v. Superior Court ,
	117 Cal. App. 3d 1 (1981).....	4
25
26	Reno v. Baird ,
	18 Cal. 4th 640 (1998)	9, 10, 11
27
28	Thomas v. Gilliland ,
	95 Cal. App. 4th 427 (2002).....	6
29
30	Thompson v. City of Monrovia ,
	186 Cal. App. 4th 860 (2010).....	12
31
32	Wills v. Superior Court ,
	195 Cal. App. 4th 143 (2011).....	8

TABLE OF AUTHORITIES (CONTINUED)

Page(s)

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

Yanowitz v. L’Oreal USA, Inc.,
36 Cal. 4th 1028 (2005) 14

Federal Statutes

28 U.S.C. § 1367(d) 6

State Statutes

Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 430.10(e) 5

Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 436(a) 8

Cal. Gov. Code § 12960 11

Cal. Gov’t Code 12940(a) 6

Cal. Gov’t Code § 12940(h) 12

Cal. Gov’t Code § 12965(a) 5

Rules

Rule 41 6

Regulations

2 C.C.R. § 10000, et seq. Third 6

2 C.C.R. § 11021(a)(1)(C) 13

1 I. INTRODUCTION AND STATEMENT OF ISSUES

2 The claims and allegations presented by the Department of Fair Employment and Housing
3 (“DFEH”) suing on behalf of Real Party in Interest John Doe are defective and meritless on their 4 face.¹ The entire Complaint is barred by the statute of limitations. DFEH filed a substantially 5 similar action in federal district court on the last day of the limitations period, then more than 6 three months later voluntarily dismissed it immediately after Cisco asked it to stipulate to 7 arbitration pursuant to Doe’s arbitration agreement. DFEH’s filing of this action on the same date
8 that it dismissed the federal action is untimely because the pendency of the federal action did not 9 toll the statute of limitation. In fact, the leading California case has described as “preposterous”
10 the argument that the first action tolls the statute when the plaintiff voluntarily dismisses it and 11 refiles.

12 The Complaint fails for additional, independent reasons. The basic foundation of Doe’s
13 allegations is that, although he was hired into a coveted and highly lucrative engineering position
14 by a manager who at that time knew him and his caste, that manager and his successor later 15 discriminated on that basis, discussing his caste and criticizing his work, and promoting others of 16 Indian descent. As Doe acknowledges, Cisco, which does not tolerate discrimination of any sort,
17 investigated Doe’s contention. Doe further acknowledges that, at Doe’s request, Cisco conducted
18 a second level review of the investigation’s findings.²

19 Doe fails to state legally viable claims. As explained in Cisco’s concurrently filed Motion
20 to Strike, neither caste nor ethnicity are among the protections of the FEHA, and he has not
21 exhausted the required administrative remedies as to religion, national origin, and color. Doe’s 22 discrimination claim, which relies upon these unexhausted protections, fails to state a claim and 23 also fails because Doe does not credibly allege discriminatory adverse actions. Doe’s harassment 24 claims are predicated on personnel management activities which plainly do not constitute 25 harassment as a matter of law, the alleged statements and actions are not sufficiently severe or

26 _____
27 ¹ Cisco files herewith its Motion to Compel Arbitration pursuant to a binding arbitration 28 agreement between Real Party in Interest John Doe and Cisco. If the Court grants that Motion to Compel Cisco will address the arguments herein to the Arbitrator.

² That Doe disagrees with the findings does not negate that Cisco thoroughly, and in accordance with its policies, investigated his complaint.

1 pervasive to alter Doe’s working conditions, and the allegations are time barred.³ The retaliation
2 claim also fails to state a claim, including because the allegations show that Doe failed to engage
3 in protected conduct. Because the freestanding FEHA claims fail, so too do the derivative failure
4 to prevent claims. For all of these reasons, the Complaint should be dismissed in its entirety.

5 II. RELEVANT FACTS

6 A. Doe’s Employment at Cisco

7 Doe is a current, five-year Cisco employee recruited and hired into a highly coveted and 8 highly lucrative position by one of the very individuals who allegedly harbored animus against 9 him. See Compl. (Complaint) ¶¶ 18. As Doe admits, in 2015, Defendant Iyer recruited Doe to 10 work for him in one of Cisco’s internal technology startups. Id. at ¶ 30. When Iyer recruited and 11 hired Doe, Iyer allegedly knew Doe was a Dalit. Id. ¶¶ 18, 30, 31. Doe was not hired as a 12 manager. See id. ¶ 18.

13 The Complaint does not explicitly allege the religion, ancestry, ethnicity, or race/color of 14 Iyer and Co-Defendant Kompella, nor of any other employees. Instead, the Complaint alleges 15 only that Iyer and Kompella are Indian Brahmins, or at least of a higher caste than Doe. Id. ¶¶ 4, 16 30, 35. The DFEH further alleges without any factual support that all of Doe’s team was 17 comprised of Indian immigrants from “high castes.” Id. ¶ 3.

18 According to Doe, in or around October 2015, Iyer confirmed to Doe’s colleagues that 19 Doe was “not on the main list” at university in India, a fact Iyer allegedly knew because he 20 attended university with Doe. Id. ¶¶ 30, 31, 38, 41. This alleged statement was made outside of 21 Doe’s presence. When Doe heard of it from some unnamed source a year after Iyer allegedly 22 made the statement, Doe claims that he spoke with Iyer about it and alleges that Iyer denied
23 making this statement. Id. ¶¶ 32, 41. Doe reported this alleged statement to Employee Relations
24 (ER) on or around November 21, 2016. See id. ¶ 33. Iyer allegedly reorganized the engineering
25 team and promoted Kompella, who received a raise, and another colleague to supervisor 26 positions. Id. ¶ 34-35. As part of this reorganization, Iyer moved team members from the 27 technology Doe was working on, and “did not formally integrate the third technology into either 28

³ Individual defendants Iyer and Kompella are represented by their own counsel.

1 team” headed by the new supervisors. Id. ¶ 36. Doe claims his role was “reduced” and that he was 2 “isolated” as a result of this reorganization. Id.

3 On December 8, 2016, Doe complained to ER about Iyer’s alleged disclosure of his caste
4 by confirming that Doe wasn’t on the “main list” at university, the team reorganization, and Iyer
5 allegedly making unspecified inappropriate comments about a Muslim employee and applicant
6 (this is not Doe’s religion). Id. ¶ 37. ER investigated Doe’s complaint, did not substantiate his
7 allegation, and closed the investigation. Id. ¶ 39. Doe requested and Cisco agreed to review ER’s
8 findings shortly thereafter. Id. ¶ 41. Doe claims that Iyer “disparaged” Doe to employees at some 9 unspecified later time (he does not allege what this “disparagement” consisted of or how often it 10 occurred), misrepresented Doe’s performance (he does not specify when, how, or how often), and 11 told unspecified colleagues they should avoid working with Doe (he does not specify who said
12 this, who this was said to, or when or how often it was said). Id. ¶ 40. After a re-review of Doe’s 13 complaint by a different investigator, which involved re-interviewing employees and re-reviewing 14 documents, Cisco was again unable to substantiate Doe’s allegations of caste discrimination and 15 retaliation. Id. ¶¶ at 41-43.

16 Over a year after the November 2016 reorganization, on February 26, 2018, Kompella
17 became the Interim Head of Engineering after Iyer stepped down from the role. Id. ¶ 45.
18 According to Doe, in this role, Kompella “continued to discriminate, harass, and retaliate against 19 Doe by, for example, giving him assignments that were impossible to complete under the 20 circumstances. Kompella also began requiring Doe to submit weekly status reports to him and 21 Senior Vice President/General Manager Tom Edsall.” Id.

22 According to Doe, a new manager, Rajeev Gupta, took over for Kompella on May 21,
23 2018. Id. ¶ 46. In July 2018, Doe applied for a director position which he did not obtain. Id. ¶¶ 47.
24 Doe alleges that he was unable to secure this position because Gupta was “improperly 25 influenced” by Iyer’s “criticisms about Doe’s work product, social skills, and insubordination”
26 (which Doe does not dispute are true). Id. No adverse employment actions are alleged to have 27 occurred after July 2018 and Doe remains a Cisco engineer (a highly respected position in the 28 field) in a different technology group. See id. ¶ 18.

1 B. Doe’s Administrative Charge and the DFEH’s Lawsuit

2 Doe filed an initial administrative charge with the DFEH on July 30, 2018, alleging only
3 claims against Cisco based on race and ancestry. Id. ¶ 11. On or around October 9, 2018, Doe
4 filed an amended administrative charge, again only alleging claims based on race and ancestry,
5 this time against Cisco, Iyer, and Kompella. Id. The DFEH alleges that it served the amended
6 charge on Cisco, Iyer, and Kompella on or about October 9, 2018.⁴ Id. No additional charges have 7 been filed. As is statutorily required for DFEH to have standing to sue, the DFEH convened a
8 mediation between Doe, Cisco, Iyer, and Kompella on February 11, 2020, but the case did not 9 settle. Id. ¶ 13. The parties tolled the DFEH’s deadline to file a civil lawsuit to June 30, 2020. The 10 DFEH filed a substantially similar action in federal court on June 30, 2020 (“Federal Action”)
11 and served Cisco with that federal complaint on September 28, 2020. Request for Judicial Notice, 12 Ex. C.⁵ After receiving notice of Cisco’s intention to file a motion to compel arbitration based on 13 Doe’s valid arbitration agreement with Cisco, the DFEH voluntarily dismissed the Federal Action
14 on October 16, 2020, Id., Ex. E, and on the same day refiled this action.

15 III. LEGAL STANDARD

16 A civil complaint is intended to frame and limit the issues and apprise the defendant of the 17 basis upon which the plaintiff seeks recovery. See Fuentes v. Tucker, 31 Cal. 2d 1, 4 (1947);
18 Perkins v. Superior Court, 117 Cal. App. 3d 1, 6 (1981). A complaint must be sufficiently clear 19 to apprise the defendant of the alleged legal wrongs. See Metzenbaum v. Metzenbaum, 86 Cal.
20 App. 2d 750, 753 (1948) (requiring “reasonable precision and [] sufficient clarity and particularity 21 [so] that the defendant may be apprised of the nature, source and extent of his cause of action.”).

22 ⁴ The DFEH did not attach to the Complaint copies of Doe’s original or amended DFEH charge.
23 See Complaint. Cisco requests that the Court take judicial notice of the DFEH charges and 24 files its request for judicial notice (which is proper, see Louie v. BFS Retail & Commercial 25 Operations, LLC, 178 Cal. App. 4th 1544, 1554 (2009)) with this motion. Moreover, Iyer and 26 Kompella were not served with the charge on October 9, 2018. Instead, they were not served with 27 the charge until late March 2019, but that fact is not material to this motion.

28 ⁵ Cisco attaches as Exhibits C-E to its Request for Judicial Notice the relevant portions of the federal court docket in the case Department of Fair Employment and Housing v. Cisco Systems,
Inc., No. 5:20-cv-04374 EJD. See Request for Judicial Notice; Hines v. Lukes, 167 Cal. App. 4th 1174, 1181 n.4 (2008) (taking judicial notice of complaint in related action); City of Sacramento
v. State Water Res. Control Bd., 2 Cal. App. 4th 960, 968 n.3 (1992) (taking judicial notice of court’s file in another action).

1 A demurrer is appropriate where a complaint “does not state facts sufficient to constitute a
2 cause of action.” Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 430.10(e). In evaluating a demurrer, a court must 3 “admit[] all material facts properly pleaded, but not contentions, deductions, or conclusions of 4 fact or law.” Blank v. Kirwan, 39 Cal. 3d 311, 318 (1985); Aubry v. Tri-City Hosp. Dist., 2 Cal.
5 4th 962, 967 (1992) (“The court does not, however, assume the truth of contentions, deductions or 6 conclusions of law” in ruling on demurrer). To survive a demurrer, Plaintiff must show that it
7 “pleaded facts sufficient to establish every element of that cause of action.” Cantu v. Resolution
8 Trust Corp., 4 Cal. App. 4th 857, 879 (1992) (emphasis added). “Doubt in the complaint may be 9 resolved against plaintiff and facts not alleged are presumed not to exist.” Kramer v. Intuit Inc.,
10 121 Cal. App. 4th 574, 578 (2004). A defendant may demur on statute of limitations grounds
11 when the face of the complaint shows the action is time-barred. Carter v. Prime Healthcare
12 Paradise Valley LLC, 198 Cal. App. 4th 396, 412 (2012).

13 IV. ARGUMENT

14 A. The Entire Complaint is Barred by the Statute of Limitations

15 When the DFEH files a civil action under the FEHA, it must do so within one year after 16 the employee files his administrative complaint. Cal. Gov’t Code § 12965(a). Here, Doe filed an 17 amended administrative complaint on October 9, 2018. Compl. ¶ 11. Thus, in the absence of a 18 tolling agreement, DFEH’s deadline to file a civil action was October 9, 2019. There were,
19 however, several tolling agreements that extended the deadline to June 30, 2020. See Compl. ¶
20 13. DFEH filed the Federal Action on June 30, 2020, the last possible date remaining in the 21 statute of limitations. Compl. ¶ 14; RJN, Ex. C. On October 16, 2020, DFEH voluntarily
22 dismissed the Federal Action. Compl. ¶ 14; RJN, Ex. D.

23 DFEH filed this action on October 16, 2020. On its face, the filing of this lawsuit is time-
24 barred because DFEH filed it well after the June 30, 2020 statute of limitation deadline. It is 25 black-letter law that when a plaintiff voluntarily dismisses a first lawsuit, the time period during 26 which the first lawsuit was pending does not toll the statute of limitations; if a plaintiff files a 27 second action after the untolled statute of limitations has run, the second action is time-barred.
28 Thomas v. Gilliland, 95 Cal. App. 4th 427 (2002). Thomas addressed this precise issue, and held

1 as follows:

2 In this appeal we review the contention that the statute of limitations is tolled when a
3 complaint is filed so that a plaintiff may dismiss the complaint and refile the same action
4 long after the statute of limitations has expired. We affirm the trial court's rejection of this preposterous proposition.

5 Thomas, 95 Cal. App. 4th at 429. Commenting on the common-sense reason for this rule, the 6 court observed “[i]f Thomas's proposition had any validity, plaintiffs could start and stop an 7 action at will, without regard for the expense, delay, and frustration such conduct would impose
8 on the court and the defendants.” Id. at 433.

9 There is no basis for DFEH to avoid this result.⁶ It is legally significant that this result is 10 self-inflicted by DFEH. Cisco had not filed any motions in the Federal Action, and the federal 11 court did not involuntarily dismiss the Federal Action. Rather, DFEH simply chose to voluntarily
12 dismiss, apparently for tactical reasons. In this circumstance, the law is clear: no tolling applies, 13 and the entire complaint is time-barred and must be dismissed with prejudice.

14 B. Plaintiff's FEHA Discrimination Allegations Fail to State a Claim

15 The FEHA discrimination claims fail on the factual allegations here.

16 First, as Cisco explains in its concurrently filed Motion to Strike, because caste is not a 17 protected class the DFEH cannot bring caste-based discrimination claims. Cal. Gov't Code 18 12940(a). Second, and as also explained in Cisco's Motion to Strike, Doe did not exhaust his 19 allegations of religion, national origin/ethnicity, and color animus, and so cannot allege 20 discrimination on those bases. See 2 C.C.R. § 10000, et seq. Third, as to ancestry and race -- the 21 only exhausted and statutorily protected categories -- the DFEH does not even attempt to allege
22 that Iyer or Kompella (or anyone else) are of a different ancestry or race, or that they harbored 23 animus on these bases. Instead, the DFEH alleges that Iyer, Kompella, and others were of 24 different castes than Doe, allegations outside of the statutory schemes. Compl. ¶¶ 29, 34.

25
26 ⁶ DFEH cites 28 U.S.C. § 1367(d) in the Complaint, ¶ 15, apparently to show that re-filing the 27 action in state court is timely. But Section 1367(d) does not apply to a voluntary dismissal; it
28 applies only if a case is dismissed pursuant to Section 1367. *Centaur Classic Convertible
Arbitrage Fund Ltd. v. Countrywide Fin. Corp.*, 878 F. Supp. 2d 1009, 1019 (C.D. Cal. 2011).
Because DFEH voluntarily dismissed pursuant to Rule 41, and the federal district court did not dismiss pursuant to section 1367, that section cannot save the action from dismissal.

1 In addition, Doe does not sufficiently allege that he suffered an adverse employment
2 action within the meaning of the FEHA. The DFEH alleges that Doe suffered discrimination
3 when Cisco, through Iyer and/or Kompella: (1) reassigned Doe’s job duties and isolated him from 4 his colleagues, (2) denied him a raise, (3) denied “him work opportunities that could have led to a 5 raise,” (4) denied him a promotion to the Head of Engineering, and (5) denied him a promotion to 6 the Director of Research and Development Operations. Compl. ¶ 53. The DFEH also vaguely
7 references unspecified “discriminatory comments and conduct.” Id. ¶ 54. Doe further alleges that 8 Iyer telling colleagues that he was not on the “main list” was discriminatory. Id. ¶ 31.

9 An allegation of “isolating” Doe from colleagues cannot be an adverse employment 10 action. See Kelley v. Conco Companies, 196 Cal. App. 4th 191, 212 (2011) (“ostracism in the 11 workplace is insufficient to establish an adverse employment decision”). As to Iyer allegedly 12 reassigning Doe’s duties as part of a teamwide reorganization, allegedly denying Doe a raise, or 13 denying unspecified work opportunities, such allegations do not allow the Court to reasonably 14 infer that (to the extent any of these actually happened) they were caused by an intent to 15 unlawfully discriminate against Doe. Cantu, 4 Cal. App. 4th at 879. This is especially true given
16 that Iyer actively recruited and hired Doe to work with him in a highly coveted position at Cisco
17 earning top compensation, even by Silicon Valley standards. Nazir v. United Airlines, Inc., 178
18 Cal. App. 4th 243, 273 (2009) (when same allegedly discriminatory actor previously selected 19 plaintiff for favorable treatment, this creates “an inference of nondiscrimination”).

20 The DFEH’s other discrimination allegations similarly fail to state a claim. There is no
21 reason to believe that other employees were unaffected by a reorganization, or that Doe was the 22 only employee who did not receive a raise. Compl. ¶¶ 35, 36, 42. And there is no elaboration as to 23 what alleged “work opportunities” Doe was denied as a result of Cisco, Iyer, or Kompella’s 24 conduct. Id. ¶ 53; Aubry, 2 Cal. 4th at 967 (“court does not, however, assume the truth of 25 contentions, deductions or conclusions of law” in ruling on demurrer). Indeed, Doe does not 26 allege that he was equally qualified for the Head of Engineering role (or indeed, that he wanted 27 it). Instead, Doe’s complaint generally is about the reorganization. Id. ¶ 35; Guz v. Bechtel Nat.
28 Inc., 24 Cal. App. 4th 317, 366 (2000) (plaintiff must show that similarly situated persons outside

1 his protected class were “treated more favorably.”).

2 Nor does the DFEH allege that the person who received the Director job for which Doe
3 applied in July 2018 was outside of protected classes Doe pleads. Id. ¶ 47; Wills v. Superior
4 Court, 195 Cal. App. 4th 143, 173 (2011) (affirming dismissing discrimination claim where 5 plaintiff failed to identify any similarly situated employees treated more favorably); Lin v. Potter, 6 No. C-10-03757-LB, 2011 WL 1522382, at *11-12 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 21, 2011) (Title VII:
7 dismissing discrimination claim where plaintiff failed to allege comparator employee who 8 received promotion was similarly situated regarding eligibility, and failed to allege he was of a 9 different race). Because the DFEH fails to establish multiple elements of the discrimination claim,
10 it should be dismissed, and so should the derivative failure to prevent discrimination claim.⁷
11 Cantu, 4 Cal. App. 4th at 879 (plaintiff must plead facts sufficient to establish every element of 12 cause of action).

13 C. Plaintiff’s FEHA Harassment Claim Fails On Multiple Grounds

14 1. DFEH Failed to Administratively Exhaust The Harassment Claim

15 As explained above, Doe did not exhaust remedies on religion, national origin/ethnicity, 16 and color claims, and cannot allege harassment on those bases.

17 2. DFEH Fails to State the Elements of a Harassment Claim

18 To state a prima facie case of harassment, a plaintiff must plead facts to show that (1) he 19 is a member of a protected class; (2) was subjected to unwelcome harassment; (3) the harassment
20 was based on the protected class; (4) the harassment was sufficiently severe or pervasive to alter
21 the conditions of employment and create an abusive environment; and (5) respondeat superior.
22 Fisher v. San Pedro Peninsula Hospital, 214 Cal. App. 3d 590, 608 (1989). The harassment claim
23 should be dismissed because the DFEH fails to plead facts supporting the first four elements of 24 harassment. Cantu, 4 Cal. App. 4th at 879 (plaintiff must plead facts sufficient to establish every 25 element of cause of action).

26 ⁷ If the Court does not dismiss each of the freestanding FEHA claims (discrimination, harassment, 27 and retaliation), Cisco respectfully requests that to the extent it dismisses any of them, it also 28 strike the corresponding failure to prevent allegations; i.e., if the Court dismisses the discrimination claim, that it strike the failure to prevent discrimination allegations in Claims 4 and
5. Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 436(a).

1 First, as discussed in the accompanying Motion to Strike, caste is not a protected category.

2 Second, the allegations here consist of personnel management that cannot be harassment
3 under the FEHA. As a matter of law, harassment does not include personnel or business
4 management actions such as performance reviews, work criticisms, hiring and firing, job or 5 project assignments, promotion or demotions, and other personnel management duties. Reno v.
6 Baird, 18 Cal. 4th 640, 645-47 (1998) (citing with approval Janken v. GM Hughes Elecs., 46 Cal.
7 App. 4th 55, 62-65 (1996)). In so holding, Reno approved Janken, which affirmed dismissal of 8 claims against individual defendants and explained that harassment does not include “commonly 9 necessary personnel management actions such as hiring and firing, job or project assignments, 10 office or work station assignments, promotion or demotion, performance evaluations, the 11 provision of support, the assignment or nonassignment of supervisory functions, deciding who 12 will and who will not attend meetings” etc. Reno, 18 Cal. 4th at 646-47. The proper claim from 13 such facts is one for discrimination. Id. at 647. Instead, “harassment consists of conduct outside 14 the scope of necessary job performance,” such as “verbal epithets or derogatory comments, slurs, 15 physical interference with freedom of movement, derogatory posters or cartoons, and unwanted 16 sexual advances.” Id. at 645-46 (citing Janken, 46 Cal. App. 4th at 62-63).

17 Here, the DFEH alleges that Iyer and/or Kompella, and through them Cisco: (1) revealed
18 his caste to colleagues, (2) disparaged him to the team, (3) subjected Doe to “offensive comments 19 and other misconduct,” (4) isolated him from the team, (5) reduced his role to that of an 20 individual contributor, (6) gave “him assignments that were impossible to complete under the 21 circumstances,” and (7) required “him to submit weekly status reports.” Compl. ¶ 63. None of 22 this shows actionable harassment.

23 The fourth through seventh allegations are plainly personnel management. Reno, 18 Cal.
24 4th at 646-47. As for the wholly conclusory allegation of subjecting Doe to “offensive comments 25 and other misconduct,” no specific actions whatsoever are pled, including any offensive
26 comments directed at Doe. A conclusory allegation is insufficient as a matter of law. Czajkowski 27 v. Haskell & White, LLP, 208 Cal. App. 4th 166, 173 (2012) (contentions, deductions or 28 conclusions of fact or law insufficient); Fisher, 214 Cal. App. 3d at 613-14 (sustaining demurrer

1 on conclusory harassment claim).

2 Finally, as for the allegation of “disparaging Doe” to the team, again no specifics are pled.
3 Id. Cisco assumes that this refers to Iyer allegedly communicating in October 2015 that Doe was 4 from a “Scheduled Caste” by confirming that Doe was not on the “main list,” which he knew
5 because they were students at university at the same time (according to Doe, this communicated
6 to his colleagues that he had been admitted to IIT through affirmative action designed for those in 7 “Scheduled Castes” or who were outside of the caste system). Id. ¶¶ 31-32, 38. But a statement of 8 a fact without editorial is not a harassing slur or epithet. Reno, 18 Cal. 4th at 645-46 (defining 9 commentary that may constitute harassment).

10 Third, even assuming arguendo that caste is a protected category, the allegations do not 11 plead causation; in other words, they do not sufficiently suggest that anything happened based on 12 Doe’s caste. Doe assumes, without factual support, that events he perceived as negative were 13 based on caste – whether it be not getting a raise, or promotion to supervisor or Head of 14 Engineering positions (which he doesn’t allege he requested or wanted), or receiving performance
15 counseling (which he fails to allege was unnecessary). But aside from the single alleged 16 “confirmation” of his caste, he cannot point to any event where his caste was mentioned or 17 referenced, and certainly not any of these actions about which he complains. Doe’s speculation
18 that his caste had anything to do with him purportedly not getting a raise or being subject to a 19 teamwide reorganization is unsupported by any well-pled facts. Aubry, 2 Cal. 4th at 967 (“The 20 court does not, however, assume the truth of contentions, deductions or conclusions of law” in 21 ruling on demurrer).

22 Fourth, the allegations are not actionable as harassment because they are not severe or 23 pervasive. See Fisher, 214 Cal. App. 3d at 610 (sustaining demurrer: “harassment cannot be 24 occasional, isolated, sporadic, or trivial, rather the plaintiff must show a concerted pattern of 25 harassment of a repeated, routine or a generalized nature.”). Here, DFEH alleges one statement
26 over 3 years; moreover, the alleged Iyer comment was not even alleged to be made to Doe or in 27 his presence. Id. at 611 (comment not made to plaintiff or in his presence cannot contribute to 28 hostile environment). In any event, the comment is not sufficiently severe, and of course is not

1 pervasive. Far more serious conduct than the single alleged Iyer comment has been held plainly
2 insufficient to state a harassment claim. See e.g., Hughes v. Pair, 46 Cal. 4th 1035, 1049 (2009)
3 (two incidents, including defendant’s threat of sexual assault, insufficient to establish severe and 4 pervasive harassment); Manatt v. Bank of Am., NA, 339 F.3d 792, 798 (9th Cir. 2003) (Title VII
5 case: racial jokes, and other mocking behavior insufficient to show hostile work environment);
6 Yoshimoto v. O’Reilly Auto., Inc., No. C 10-5438 PJH, 2013 WL 6446249, at *14-15 (N.D. Cal.
7 Dec. 9, 2013) (FEHA harassment claim: reaffirming Manatt and granting summary judgment, 8 finding once a year offensive comments not sufficiently severe or pervasive to constitute 9 harassment). Even if the alleged conduct were not personnel management, it was “occasional,
10 isolated, sporadic, and trivial” rather than severe or pervasive. See Fisher, 214 Cal. App. 3d at 11 610; Mokler v. County of Orange, 157 Cal. App. 4th 121, 144-45 (2007) (three incidents over five 12 weeks with minor touching on one occasion not severe or pervasive); Soares v. California, No.
13 2:16-cv-00128 WBSEFB, 2016 WL 3519411, at *3-4 (E.D. Cal. June 28, 2016) (dismissing
14 FEHA harassment claims with “general allegations” that (1) similarly situated males were better
15 treated and not subjected to the same treatment, and (2) individual defendant made negative
16 comments about female colleague). The harassment claims should be dismissed.

17 3. The Harassment Claims Are Time-Barred

18 The harassment claims also fail because they are time-barred. To bring a harassment claim 19 under FEHA, an employee must exhaust administrative remedies within the prescribed time. Cal.
20 Gov. Code § 12960, former subdivision d (before January 1, 2020, one year under the FEHA).
21 Doe filed his DFEH charge on July 30, 2018. To be timely, the last instance of harassment must 22 have occurred on or after August 1, 2017. Compl. at ¶ 11. But the only events occurring after that 23 time were Kompella’s promotion to Head of Engineering, Doe’s failure to obtain a Director
24 position, Kompella’s alleged provision of “impossible” assignments, and the requirement that 25 Doe submit weekly reports. Compl. ¶¶ 45-47. All are acts of personnel management. Reno, 18
26 Cal. 4th at 646-47. There are no allegations of timely harassment occurring on or after August 1, 27 2017. Thompson v. City of Monrovia, 186 Cal. App. 4th 860, 879-80 (2010) (affirming summary
28 judgment where only personnel management – not harassment – occurred during limitations

1 period); see Rabara v. Heartland Emp. Servs., No. 17-CV-03770-LHK, 2019 WL 1877351, at 2 *19-20 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 26, 2019) (granting summary judgment where only alleged wrongdoing 3 within limitations period was personnel management).

4 The harassment claim, and derivative failure to prevent harassment claim, should be 5 dismissed.

6 D. Plaintiff’s FEHA Retaliation Claim Fails for Lack of Essential Elements

7 The retaliation claim fails because the DFEH does not sufficiently allege protected
8 conduct or adverse employment actions. To assert a prima facie retaliation claim under FEHA, 9 DFEH must show that (1) Doe engaged in protected activity; (2) Cisco thereafter subjected him to 10 an adverse employment action; and (3) a causal link exists between the two. Akers v. County of 11 San Diego, 95 Cal. App. 4th 1441, 1453 (2002). The retaliation claim fails because Doe’s
12 allegations fail to meet these threshold requirements.

13 1. No Protected Activity

14 The DFEH conclusorily alleges that Iyer and Kompella retaliated against Doe “for 15 opposing their discriminatory and harassing conduct by confronting Iyer” and states that he filed 16 “internal discrimination complaints.” Compl. ¶ 74. Specifically, DFEH alleges that in 2016 and 17 the first half of 2017, Doe complained internally at Cisco that Iyer confirmed his caste to 18 colleagues.⁸ Id. ¶ 33, 37-39, 41-43. Regardless of whether this is true, the allegation is 19 insufficient. Under the FEHA, Doe must complain of conduct made unlawful under that statute.
20 Cal. Gov’t Code § 12940(h) (illegal to retaliate against “any person because the person has 21 opposed any practices forbidden under this part”). Because caste is not protected under the 22 FEHA, Doe’s allegations do not state a retaliation claim. As Doe acknowledges, however, Cisco
23 nevertheless thoroughly investigated his complaint twice. In either instance, a different ER person
24 investigated Doe’s complaint. Compl. ¶¶ 33, 37-39, 41-43. Cisco could not substantiate Doe’s
25 complaints of caste-based discrimination and retaliation. Id. ¶¶ 39, 43.

26 To the extent DFEH contends that Doe’s complaints are protected based on a “reasonable 27

28 ⁸ Doe does not allege he was retaliated against for complaining that Iyer discriminated against Muslims. Compl. ¶¶ 72-81.

1 belief” that he was complaining about FEHA violations, the applicable case law disagrees. Under 2 the FEHA, protected conduct may include opposing practices “that an individual reasonably
3 believes to exist and believes to be a violation of” the FEHA. 2 C.C.R. § 11021(a)(1)(C). But to 4 be a “reasonable belief”, it must (among other things) invoke a protected class, which Doe did not
5 do. Miller v. Dep’t of Corr., 36 Cal. 4th 446, 474-75 (2005) (finding that plaintiffs engaged in 6 protected activity when they complained in good faith about sexual favoritism, which they
7 believed violated FEHA). Doe did not reasonably believe he was complaining about conduct
8 prohibited by the FEHA nor did he invoke a protected class, and so has not stated a prima facie
9 retaliation claim. Cantu, 4 Cal. App. 4th at 879. Notwithstanding that Cisco thoroughly
10 investigated Doe’s complaint twice, the fact remains that for purposes of this case, Doe invoked
11 no protected class through his internal complaint.

12 2. No Adverse Action

13 Separately, the retaliation claim fails because the DFEH has not alleged any actionable
14 adverse action. The DFEH alleges that Iyer and Kompella subjected Doe to the following adverse 15 actions: (1) “reassigning his job duties,” (2) “isolating him from colleagues,” (3) “giving him
16 assignments that were impossible to complete under the circumstances,” (4) “denying him work
17 opportunities that could have led to a raise,” (5) “denying him a raise,” (6) “denying him 18 promotions,” (7) disparaged him, (8) misrepresented his performance, (9) told employees that they 19 should avoid working with him, and (10) required Doe to submit weekly status reports. Compl. ¶¶
20 35-36, 40, 45, 74. But there is no explanation of what “reassigning” Doe’s duties meant, except 21 that members were moved from his team. Id. ¶ 35. As to “isolating” Doe from colleagues, there is 22 no explanation what this means, but in any event, “isolating” Doe is not an adverse employment
23 action. Kelley, 196 Cal. App. 4th at 212 (citing Brooks, 229 F.3d at 928 in FEHA action).

24 The DFEH’s conclusory allegations that Defendants gave Doe unspecified assignments 25 “impossible to complete under the circumstances,” denied him “opportunities that could have led 26 to a raise,” denied him a raise and promotions, disparaged him, misrepresented his performance, 27 told unspecified employees at unspecified times that they should avoid working with him, and 28 required Doe to submit weekly status reports provide no supporting factual detail. The DFEH

1 does not specify what these assignments were, how Doe's performance was misrepresented, or 2 what work opportunities were denied Doe. The Complaint fails to sufficiently apprise Cisco of 3 the claims against it. Metzenbaum v. Metzenbaum, 86 Cal. App. 2d 750, 753 (1948) (complaint 4 must include essential facts of case with reasonable precision and with sufficient clarity and 5 particularity that a defendant may be apprised of the nature, source, and extent of the causes of 6 action); Czajkowski v. Haskell & White, LLP, 208 Cal. App. 4th 166, 173 (2012) (contentions, 7 deductions or conclusions of fact or law insufficient).

8 Moreover, as to the allegation that Doe should have received a raise, the only alleged 9 denial of a raise occurred in October 2016, before Doe ever complained. Cisco could not have 10 retaliated against Doe for complaints he had not yet made. Yanowitz v. L'Oreal USA, Inc., 36 Cal.
11 4th 1028 (2005). The retaliation claim, and derivative failure to prevent retaliation claim, should 12 be dismissed.

13 3. No Causal Link

14 The retaliation claim also fails because there cannot be a causal link between non-existent
15 protected activity and the purported adverse action, Yanowitz, 36 Cal. 4th at 1046, or protected
16 activity that occurred before the adverse action. Id.

17 V. CONCLUSION

18 For the reasons stated above, Cisco respectfully requests that the Court sustain its 19 demurrers in all respects.

20
21 Dated: November 3, 2020

LYNNE C. HERMLE
JOSEPH C. LIBURT
CAROLINA GARCIA
Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

22
23
24 By

25 LYNNE C. HERMLE
26 Attorneys for Defendant
27 CISCO SYSTEMS, INC.
28